PRODUCT GUIDE

Welcome!

Our Commitment to You

Since 2001, Universal Publishing has provided educators with materials and resources to help students develop one of the most valuable learning tools they can possess: fluent and functional handwriting. We are proud to provide affordable materials that help students learn to write by hand so they can write to learn across the curriculum.

Why Handwriting?

Research shows that writing by hand increases both retention and comprehension of information. Simply put, writing by hand helps students learn.

Handwriting is an educational building block that helps students in every subject, every day. It activates areas of the brain associated with reading, working memory, and language. When these areas of the brain are engaged, especially together, it increases learning.

Meet Our Author

Our handwriting programs are developed by handwriting instruction expert and master penman Thomas M. Wasylyk. With over 40 years of experience in the field of handwriting instruction, Mr. Wasylyk has dedicated his career to helping students learn to write by hand. He continually works to ensure that his handwriting programs reflect not only the latest research, but also the evolving needs of educators and students.

Our Handwriting Instruction Methodology

Encourage good handwriting habits from the beginning! Our strategy helps students understand correct letter formation before they ever pick up a pencil. This background knowledge leads to more effective practice and fewer mistakes.

3 Steps to Handwriting Success

Step 1: Model & Discuss

Modeling is teaching! During this step, students see how to form the letter and discuss the strokes and writing lines to build background knowledge of the letter. This step is critical in ensuring students understand the letter's formation.

Step 2: Practice

Students trace and/or write the letter based on the background knowledge they gained in Step 1. Each page includes letter models with numbered arrows for near-point reference if students need a reminder of how to form the letter.

Step 3: Self-Evaluate

Students self-evaluate their work after each line of letter practice. This simple step helps students identify and immediately correct any errors before they move on to the next line of practice. Remember: Practice makes permanent!

Reinforce literacy development with manuscript writing.

Our handwriting books teach traditional “ball-and-stick” manuscript. Research shows this is the best alphabet for young students because:

- The simple, developmentally appropriate strokes are easy for students to learn.
- This alphabet reinforces early literacy development.
- The letters are the same as the letters that students learn to read.

Take the benefits of handwriting to the next level.

Cursive writing has benefits that go beyond those of manuscript:

- Cursive uses both the left and right hemispheres of the brain, which reinforces memory and language functions.
- The connected letters help the brain to see whole words, which improves spelling and vocabulary.
- Writing in cursive boosts creativity and teaches students focus and concentration.
